

Why is Bright Beginnings Preschool the right choice for children?

Bright Beginnings Classroom	Traditional Classroom
Learning is student-centered focusing on critical thinking, cross-disciplinary learning, and self-organization	Learning is teacher-centered focusing on memory, set tasks, and rigid timetables and outcomes
Pursuit of children's questions and interests is highly valued	Strict adherence to fixed curriculum is highly valued
Learning is interactive, building on what children already know	Learning is based on repetition
Teachers are interactive, helping children to construct their own knowledge	Teachers are directive and disseminate knowledge; children are passive recipients of knowledge
Knowledge is seen as dynamic, changing with our experiences	Knowledge is seen as inert
Curriculum is rooted in children's interests, needs, worthiness of investigation	Curriculum is rooted in basic "skills" that may be meaningless to child
